Three Day Research Workshop on "Creating Strategies to Acquire Research Skills"

Date: 20th - 22nd Feb 2023 | Time: 9.30 am | Venue: Vel Murugan Auditorium, Vel Tech, Chennai - 62

About Research Workshop

While India is considered a knowledge power, the research output is very low, according to worldwide surveys. It is a welcome note that now there is increasing awareness and interest to take up research.

Carrying out good research involves developing multiple skills at the same time. One has to develop a deep thinking habit, a questioning mind and also should develop lateral thinking. With a right choice of the problem, he/she has to develop the skill of getting the right information in the shortest time (literature survey). Also after solving the problem, one has to communicate his findings to experts working in that area and make them recognize the contribution. This is done through paper writing and conference presentations. Also, a researcher should be fully aware of ethical practices in research before he starts on this journey.

In these lectures, we will cover all these aspects and suggest ways in improving one's research skills. These lectures will be highly interactive and the participants are expected to interact and share their experiences so they will learn the right practices and become better researchers.
